

Muonio

Harriniva Wilderness Centre

Muonio is a small remote village that sits on the banks of the Muonio River, in north-western Lapland on the border between Finland and Sweden. It is over 200km north of the Arctic Circle.

Harriniva is located 5 minutes from the village by the river and Hotel Jeris is 15 minutes south and is a traditional Finnish lakeside resort hotel set deep in the forest. Visitors are attracted to the area by its beauty, gentle fells and excellent safaris.

If time allows and you still have enough energy after all of the safaris, you will find a small number of ski slopes on Olos Fell, approximately 10 kilometres from the hotels.

Harriniva Wilderness Centre

Harriniva is a unique family run hotel. Your hosts, Kopi and Maria, and their friendly team will welcome you to their magical winter and summer wonderland where they encourage guests to relax away from the stresses of everyday life and to enjoy the surrounding nature.

The hotel has been lovingly built using local wood and stone to give it a warm, rustic feel with traditional, cosy accommodation and private facilities.

The hub of the hotel is the restaurant and bar where you can relax at the end of an exciting day, swapping stories over a hearty meal and a drink. Harriniva is also home to one of Europe's largest husky farms which of course you will have a chance to visit during your stay, but far enough away not to affect your well deserved nights rest.

Harriniva Snow Igloo Overnights

Each winter the hotel builds a wonderful igloo on the banks of the Muonio River close to the hotel so guests can make their visit to Harriniva even more memorable. At the centre of the large igloo is a chamber with ice table and chairs and leading off this are several bed chambers with double beds made of snow. Even in the coldest conditions the igloo temperature remains moderate especially when you are snuggled onto a layer of soft reindeer skins, in an excellent sleeping bag and have a hot drink.
